We spent five lovely days exploring Cuba and loved every minute. This included two nights right in the heart of bustling Havana and two nights in the small fishing town of Cojimar. We literally got to experience the best of Cuba.

Havana, Cuba's capital city, is full of fun at every turn - with its deep history and culture, colorful architecture and exciting nightlife.

And east of Havana was the charming town of Cojimar. We rented a place right on the water!

*We traveled there in April 2019, prior to the enforcement of tougher travel restrictions for U.S. residents going to Cuba.
